Overview

As political organisations, AMA Victoria, AMSA and RACGP aim to empower medical students to be involved in change within education, medical training, and health care in Australia. All organisations recognise in the field of medicine every doctor is considered a leader, whether it be within their treating team or the wider community.

These Leadership Development Workshops hosted by AMA Victoria and AMSA are an opportunity for medical students to interactively develop their leadership, communication, management and teamwork skills. Participants will also further their understanding of medico-politics, glean insights into dealing with the challenge of the medical profession and be given the opportunity to hear and ask questions of prominent healthcare professionals.

Registrations close 4 days prior to the event

A full day of presentations and workshops from a variety of leading Doctors and Health Professionals on a range of topics including:

- What is Leadership?
- Public Speaking and Powerful Presentations'
- Negotiation and Conflict Resolution skills
- Work Life Balance - How to have it all?
- Communication Skills
- Getting involved with AMSA

Presenters and timetables for each workshop may vary and will be available on www.amavic.com.au/training 6 weeks prior to the date of each workshop.
