

Vector magazine - call for Editor and Layout Designer

Dear friends and colleagues,

The AMSA Global Health Network (GHN) is currently opening applications for the positions of Editor and Layout Designer of the AMSA GHN Vector magazine. As the official publication of the AMSA GHN, Vector brings forth the most pertinent topics regarding global health to the hands of Australian medical students. Each edition includes a range of stunning articles from interviews with world leaders in health, to student elective experiences to mind-boggling brainteasers.

The magazine's readership has leaped forth exponentially in the past year. Vector is now an insert into the AMSA Panacea magazine, delivered to every medical student in Australia. This is on top of an expansive mailing list and availability on the AMSA GHN website <http://ghn.amsa.org.au/ghn/vector.html>.

If you wish to be involved in a dynamic role which shapes the way Australian medical school students perceive global health, one of these roles is for you!

- Vector Editor is an exciting position whose portfolio involves producing up to four high quality magazine editions from July 2008- July2009. The Editor will work extensively alongside the GHN Publicity Officer and a selected team of writers.
- The Vector Layout Designer is a vibrant position whose portfolio involves designing a practical and aesthetically pleasing outlay for each edition of the Vector magazine.

Please apply for one or both of these positions by sending a cover sheet (max. one A4 page) detailing why you should be selected, and your CV (max. two pages) to vectormag@gmail.com by midnight Friday 6th June. The new Editor and Layout Designer will be announced within a week from this date.

If you have any questions or concerns, please do not hesitate to contact me.

I look forward to hearing from you, and best of luck!
